

Australasian MathPsych 2027

at Adelaide University, South Australia

MathPsych is the annual meeting of the Australian Society for Mathematical Psychology. It brings together experts in quantitative and computational methods for measuring and understanding psychological phenomena.

Abstract submission opens soon!

For more information, visit our website:

<https://ampc2027.com>

